

Darfur, Sudan: Confirmed Damaged and Destroyed Villages, February 2003 - August 2009

Locations of Destroyed and Damaged Villages by Year

The map above portrays villages in Darfur that the U.S. Government has confirmed as destroyed or damaged between February 2003 and August 2009. The data reflect only what analysts have been able to identify and confirm so far. Numerous villages have not yet been evaluated. Where it is possible, the year or year range of confirmed damage or destruction has been determined. A destroyed village is defined as confirmed evidence of complete destruction of the village. A damaged village is defined as confirmed evidence of partial destruction.

The graph below presents the number of villages confirmed as either destroyed or damaged for each calendar year period in which the destruction or damage was confirmed to have occurred.

The map series to the right portrays confirmed destroyed and damaged village locations in Darfur between February 2003 and August 2009, and highlights when the destruction or damage took place. Each dot represents one destroyed/damaged village. Villages that are confirmed to have been destroyed or damaged within a specific calendar year are highlighted (in pink) in this map series.
